

Mykolas Romeris University is looking for partners where language of teaching is English (at least in parts of the undergraduate, master or doctoral level programmes) and where study programmes are relevant for the study programmes at MRU in the following subject areas:

- I. Law. At MRU there are English taught courses at bachelor level + several English-taught master programmes + on doctoral level there is always a lot of flexibility for doctoral research in any branch of law.
- II. Economics + Business studies + Finances. At MRU there are English taught bachelor and master programmes + on doctoral level there is a lot of flexibility and advisory capacity for doctoral research.
- III. Psychology. At MRU English-taught programmes at all cycles are available.
- IV. Social work. At MRU English-taught programmes are available on bachelor and master level.
- V. Management and administration, including public administration, management science. At MRU there are English taught courses at bachelor level + English-taught master programmes.
- VI. Informatics, ICT, Communication. At MRU there are English-taught bachelor and Master degree programmes

Full list of English-taught degree programmes is available on our web-site for reference:

http://www.mruni.eu/en/prospective_students/degree_programmes/

Information on exchange organization and details that are relevant for incoming exchange students is put on a dedicated site:

http://www.mruni.eu/en/prospective_students/erasmus/